To use the download feature on LibreELEC you need to have an external hard drive plugged in. I recommend this from memory express:
https://www.memoryexpress.com/Products/MX69973

Plug the HDD into a PC and find the drive in My Computer and change the label from “ADATA” to “KODI” You are then ready to plug the drive into you LibreELEC box.

On windows, downloads will automatically go to the Hard drive. No configuration needed.

On android, downloads will also automatically go to the ROM but you will need to expand your drive or store the app on the external drive. Use this guide:

Having difficulty labelling the drive on Windows for LibreELEC?? Follow this:

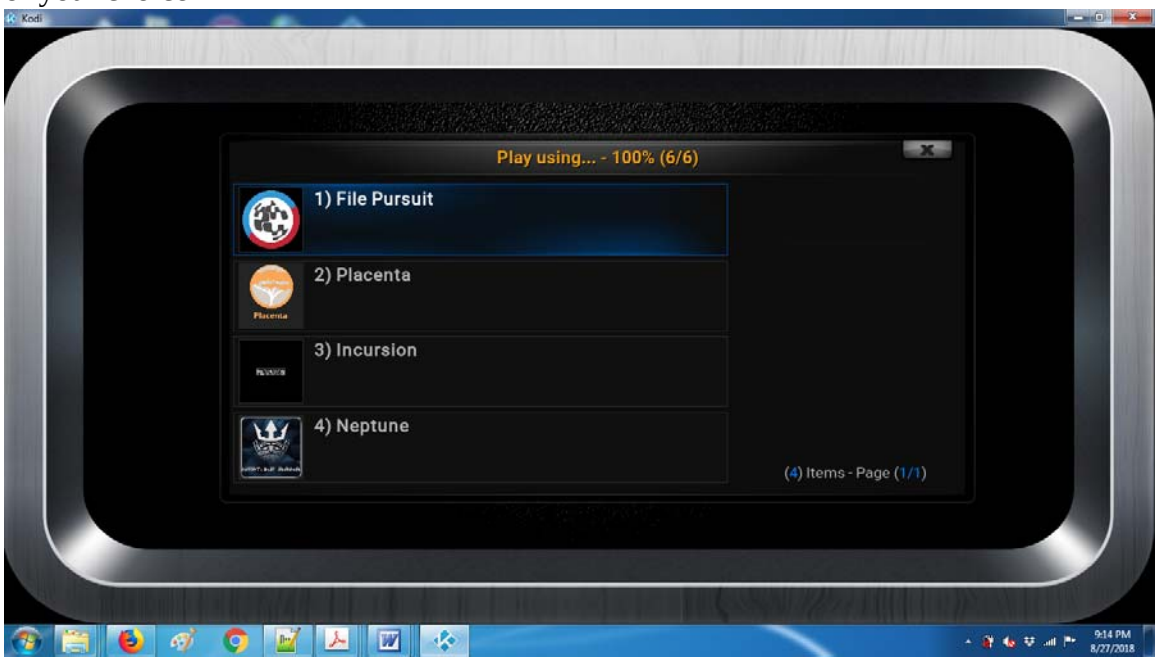
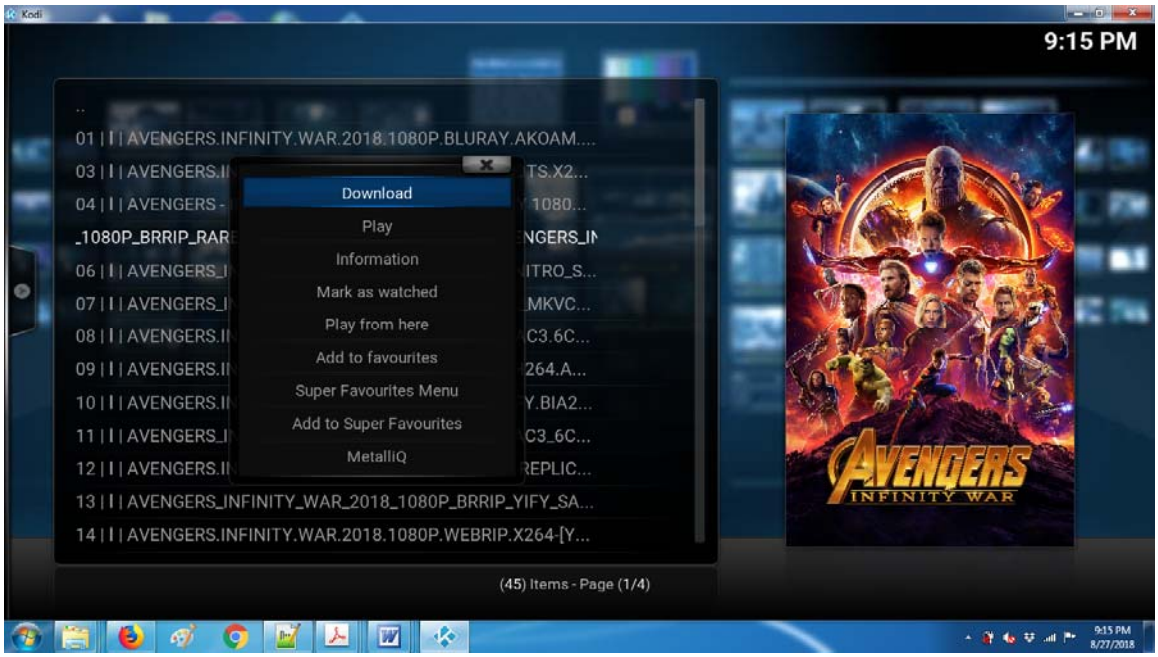
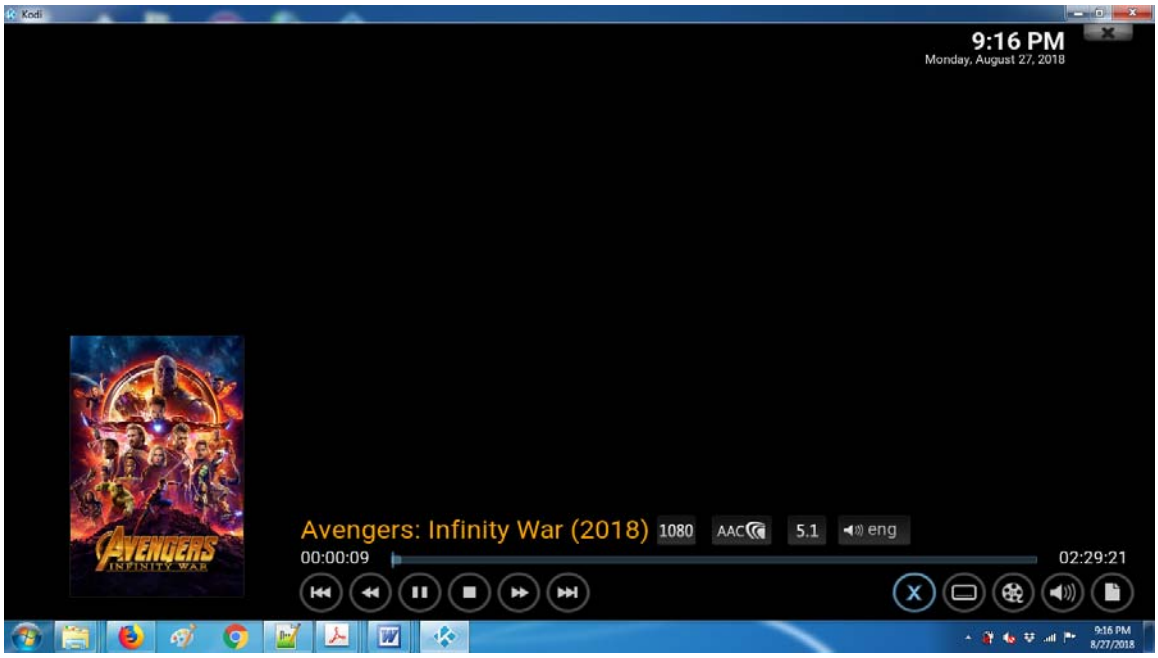
You can start playing a movie by bringing up the player window and picking the addon of your choice



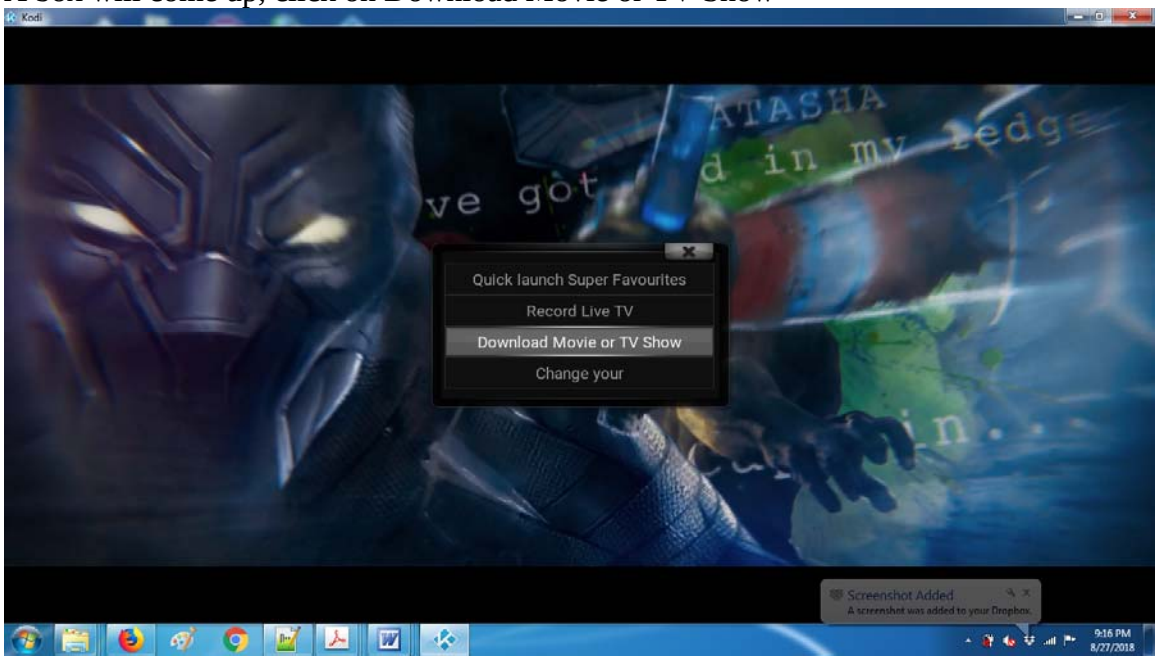
The first way, If using File Pursuit then once you get the list of links you can do a long OK press on the remote to bring up the context window and click “Download”. The file will download to the downloads folder.



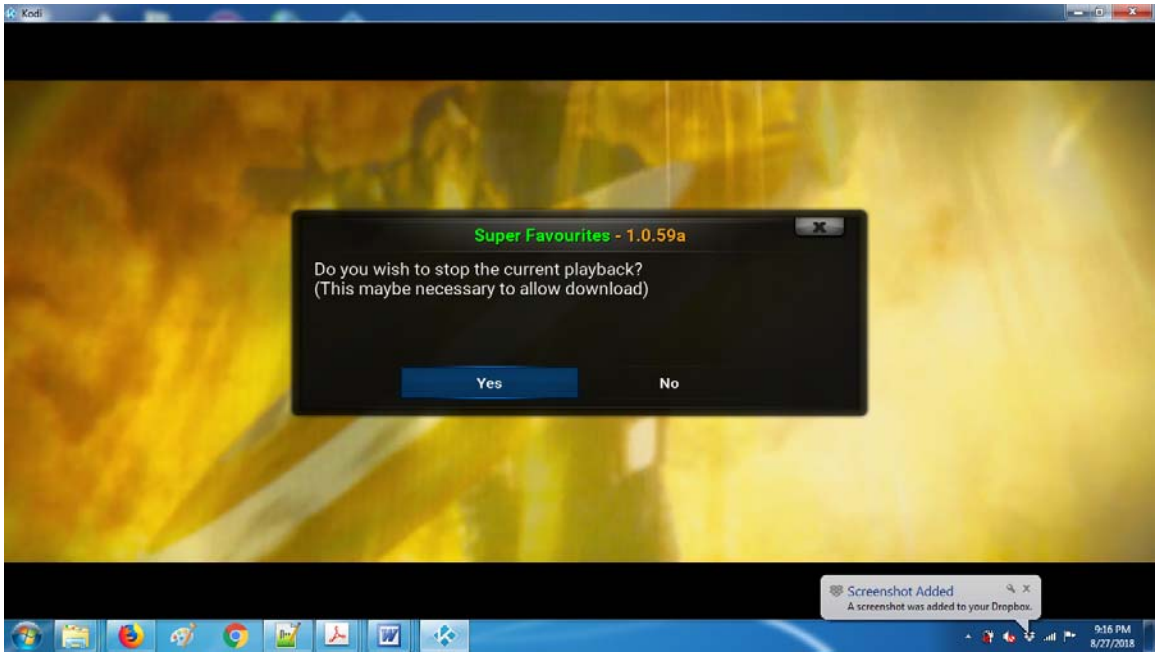
The second way, Start playing a movie with any or the movie or TV addon or in fact most of the streaming addons, Kids stuff, YouTube etc. except live TV.When the movie is playing, press the OK button on the remote, to bring up the OSD (On Screen Display), Then scroll across to the X and press it.



A box will come up, click on Download Movie or TV Show



Another dialogue box will come up asking if you want to stop playback. Click Yes.



A dialogue box will come up asking you to confirm.

INFINITY WAR

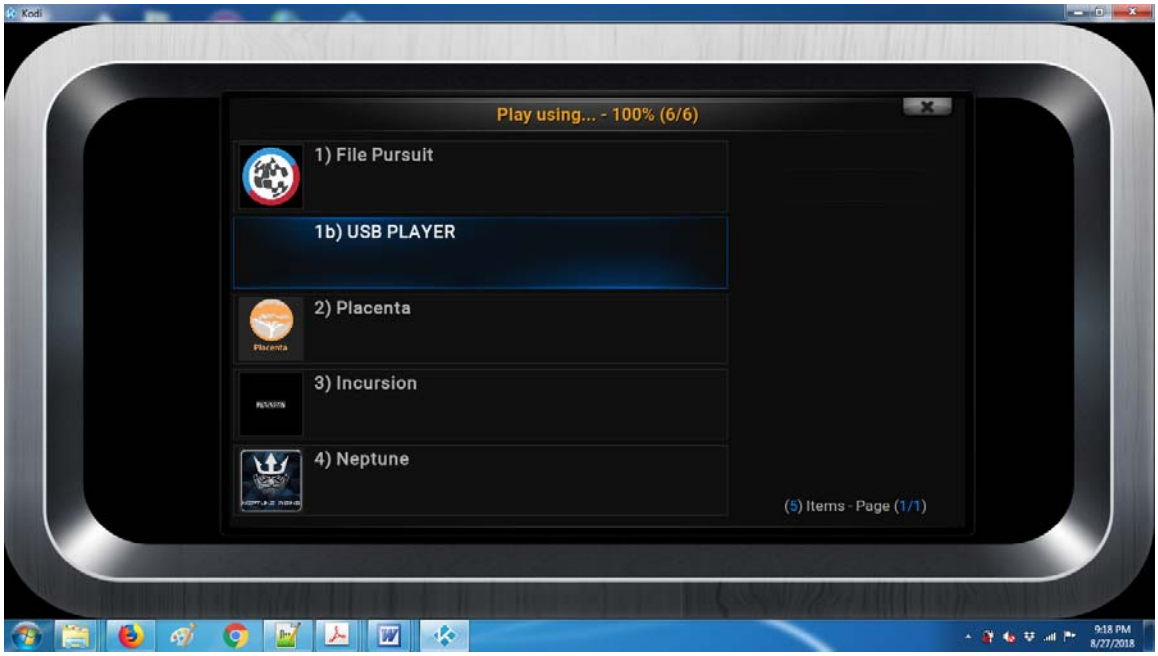
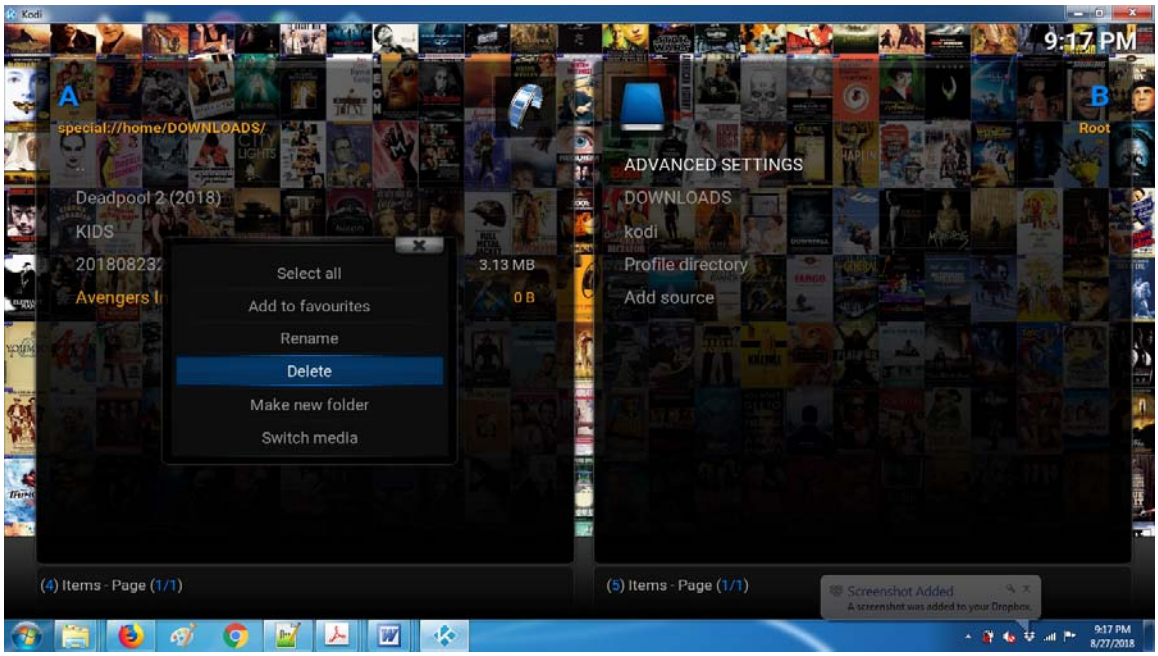
Downloads are found under MOVIES and TV SHOWS menu

Once the movie is downloading or a previous movie has downloaded it can also be recalled by bringing up the player window again, and played from here.



To delete movies listed, click DOWNLOADS under movies or TV SHOWS, scroll down to the one you want deleted. Do a long OK on the remote, a box will come up. Select delete and then confirm.



TV Shows works in the same way except that the show will have to be navigated to manually by clicking on the DOWNLOADS folder and plying it from there.

The FP addon on LibreELEC does not have this issue and can be played back in the normal manor.
